Disgrifiad / Description

Journal of the testator's father, Rev William Rees (1839-1919), Independent minister at Llechryd, co. Cardigan, who, with part of his congregation, had been locked out of the Old Chapel on 26 February 1880 (NLW MS 12863F). Two obvious reasons for this dispute were the minister's uncompromising views on temperance and his adherence to the teachings of Emanuel Swedenborg. The journal commences on 2 March 1880 and the last entry was made some time after Christmas 1917. The contents of this volume may be broadly divided into three sections: the author's career and the history of the new Tabernacle at Llechryd, 1880-1903 and 1911-[?1918] (pp. 1-228 and 457-94), a section which began with his wife's death, and contains, in addition to material such as that found in the first section, a considerable volume of verse, 1904-10 (pp. 229-436); and a brief sketch of his life (pp. 437-57).

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1966-67

Disgrifiad / Description

One of the most popular of Breton patriots and poets in Welsh literary and eisteddfodic circles during the first half of this century was M. Francois Jaffrennou (1879-1956), better known by his bardic pseudonym 'Taldir'. It is therefore pleasing that his son, M. Gildas Jaffrennou, should have seen fit to present to the Library a substantial part of his father's personal library which contains a comprehensive collection of works dealing with the language, literature, folklore, and history of Brittany.

Among the works on lexicography and grammar are Emile Ernault's Glossaire moyen breton (Paris, 1895); Gregoire de Rostrenen's Dictionnaire françois - celtique ou françois - breton . . . (Rennes, 1732), and his Grammaire françoise-celtique . . . (Rennes, 1738); Joseph Loth's Vocabulaire vieux-breton, (1884), and his Chrestomathie bretonne (Armorican, Gallois, Cornique), Paris, 1890, which contains lists of Breton names occurring in Latin books and charters written between the ninth and eleventh centuries.

Also included are Jean Lagadeuc's Catholicon, and a number of the works of Jean-Francois Le Gonidec (1775-1838), one of the leaders of the revival of Breton literature; La Villemarque's Barzaz Breiz; Gzoerziou Breiz Izel, a collection of the ballads of Lower Brittany published by Marie Luzel in two volumes in 1868 and 1874; and several Lives of Breton Saints.

The leading modern Breton prose writers are well represented, including Anatole Le Braz, Roparz Hemon, Jakez Riou, and Youenn Drezen. Among the collection of plays is Le Bayon's Nikolazic.

Among the Breton poets represented are Loeiz Herrieu, Joseph Cuillandre, and Jean-Pierre Calloc'h.

And finally, the works of 'Taldir' himself, which comprise his Giriadur gallek ha brezonek. Dictionnaire francais-breton, published in 1914; his edited editions of the work of Prosper Proux (1811-73) . . . for which he was awarded a Doctorate of the University of Rennes in 1913; Breiziz 1810-1910 (Keraez, 1911); Histoire anecdotique de Carhaix . . . (Rennes, 1924); and a collection of his own poems entitled Barzaz Taldir which, incidentally, contains a 'cywydd' in Welsh by T. Gwynn Jones, written in 1908 on the occasion of Taldir's wedding.

The manuscript collection includes an unpublished work by 'Taldir' in five books or volumes (unbound) entitled 'Le (Numero) Matricule 315' covering the two World Wars and the period of his imprisonment, 1944-6; material relating to such matters as the German occupation, problems of the period after the Liberation, the 'Taldir' case ('L'Affaire Taldir'), and the visit of the National Eisteddfod Council Delegation to Brittany and Paris in April, 1947; the manuscript of a fifth volume of poems by 'Taldir' ('Derriere les Barreaux, Drek ar Barinier', 1944-6) with pencil notes by M. Andre Dezarrois. a bibliography of the works of 'Taldir'; documents relating to Claude Jaffrennou (1837-1919), father of 'Taldir', and to the Ropars family of Bolazec, 'Taldir's maternal ancestors; a volume of press cuttings, 1912-55 ('Folia Siccata, Ludibria Venti-Feuilles mortes, jouets du vent - Deliou kras, c'hoariellou avel'); cuttings of articles by 'Taldir' bearing the title 'Courier de Basse-Bretagne' published in Le Nouvelliste de Bretagne (Rennes) 1928-31, together with cuttings of a narrative entitled 'Sous le regne du duc Jean VI' also by 'Taldir', published in La Bretagne (Morlaix- Rennes), 28 December 1943-26 January 1944; a work by 'Taldir' entitled 'Les gens de la belle epoque en Bretagne avant et apres 1900' (typescript); a volume containing cuttings of stories in Breton by Loeiz ar Floc'h ('Stourmer'; 1868-1936) published in Ar Bobl, ?1910-13, and an incomplete copy of Va zam Buez (Keraez: Moullerez Ar Bobl, 1915) by the same author; typescript copies of three works by Georges Floc'h, '?Yann Tanig', namely 'Le Camp d'Internement de Saint - Charles, Bagne de la Liberation (25 aout 1944-31 mai 1945)', 'Contes de mes vies passees', 1945, and 'Contes, Anecdotes, Nouvelles (pour mieux connaitre l'ame de la Bretagne)', 1951; and wrappers bearing the names of subscribers to Ar Bobl and Ar Vro up to the time when they ceased publication, 2 August 1914.

A group of manuscripts, records and printed matter from the library of the donors' father, E. J. Williams, one of the most important leaders of the Welsh Colony in Patagonia during the first quarter of the 20th century (NLW MSS 19715-7A, 19718E, 19719-20D, 19721E, 19722-3D, 19724E). He had been apprenticed as a civil engineer to Joseph J. Williams of Holywell in 1875 and took a prominent part in the opening of the railway and the scheme to irrigate the Colony. After returning to Wales at the beginning of this century, he became the representative of the Chubut Mercantile Company for twenty-five years. There are over 400 letters, c. 1897-1929, in the collection, some of them from the most influential people in the colony, such as T. Dalar Evans, John Howell Jones, Lewis Jones, Eluned Morgan, Elias Owen, etc. (NLW MSS 19719-20D, 19721E) There are also three books containing copies of letters from E. J. Williams, 1912, and correspondence relating to the appointment of a minister for the Colony, 1920-5 (NLW MSS 19722-3D); certificates of E. J. Williams; and press cuttings chiefly relating to the Chubut Mercantile Company (NLW MS 19724E). This collection is of exceptional value as source material for the late 19th and early 20th century history of the Welsh Colony.

VULGATE TEXT OF HISTORIA REGUM BRITANNIAE

1967109

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1966-67

Disgrifiad / Description

A late twelfth century Phillipps manuscript of the vulgate text of Geoffrey of Monmouth's Historia Regum Britanniae (NLW MS 13052E). It is a very fine folio manuscript of 60 leaves written in double columns of 40 lines in an early Gothic hand with decorated large initial letters in red or blue for chapters or paragraphs. The divisions do not coincide in every case with those of the A. J. Giles edition, but apart from minor differences, the two texts generally agree. Though a generous bottom margin remains, most of the catchwords have disappeared through trimming, probably when bound by Charles Hering. The volume is bound in russia, with gilt cornerpieces and line borders and with inner cornerpieces and central panel in blind tooling. The manuscript may at one time have been part of a larger collection of texts. It was among the early purchases made by Sir Thomas Phillipps, bearing number 32 in his collection. (Purchased with the aid of grants from the Friends of the National Library of Wales and the Friends of the National Libraries.)

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1966-67

Disgrifiad / Description

A manuscript account in Welsh of Richard Pennant (1737?-1808), 1st baron Penrhyn, in relation to the Penrhyn Estate in Caernarvonshire, entitled 'Coffadwriaethol Hanes o Lywodraeth Richard Pennant, yr hwn a enwir yn gyffredin Arglwydd Penrhyn ar y Faenor honno a enwir Penrhyn a'i pherthynasau', by and in the autograph of William Williams of Llandygai (1738-1817) (NLW MS 19711C). The account seems to have been written in 1802 (on paper watermarked 1798) and concluded after the death of Richard Pennant in 1808. The writer is highly critical of Richard Pennant but moderates his attitude in the final paragraph. In a note (subsequently crossed out) on the cover he suggests that it would be fitting to publish this account after the death of [Richard Pennant], baron Penrhyn.

EVAN PIERCE, DENBIGH

1967121

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1966-67

Disgrifiad / Description

A group of manuscripts and papers of Evan Pierce (1808-95), M.D., Denbigh (NLW MSS 19703B, 19704F). They include (1) A day-book kept by Dr. Pierce from September 1833 to October 1834 and August to December 1836. There are also a few entries for the first half of 1837. The book is indexed with the names, addresses and occupations of his patients, and his practice appears to have been mainly in the rural area around Denbigh and Ruthin. Under each patient's name there is a description of medicines supplied, with costs and travelling expenses. (2) A bound copy of the prospectus of the 'Eisteddfod Freiniol Gymreig Cymru' held at Caerwys on 31 August and 1-2 September 1886, which was presented to Dr. Pierce by the Eisteddfod Committee on 4 October 1886 (Dept of Printed Books). It contains copies of the five poems submitted to the competition for the best six 'Hir a Thoddaid' to 'Evan Pierce, Ysw., y Meddyg a'r Gwladwr enwog o Ddinbych'--these are in the hand of the Eisteddfod Secretary, T. P. Edwards ('Caerwyson'), and at the end there is a note by him on the adjudicators' verdict. (3) Bound sheets of newspaper cuttings relating to the Irish Mail Disaster at Abergele in 1868 (Dept of Printed Books). From the handwriting of the notes on some of the cuttings, it appears that they were collected by Dr. Pierce himself, who was Coroner for North Denbighshire at the time of the accident. There is also a copy of a poem by 'Iorwerth Clwyd' entitled 'The Terrible Accident on the Chester & Holyhead Railway ... dedicated to the directors and shareholders generally'. The material is described in W. A. Evans: 'Dr. Evan Pierce of Denbigh', Transactions of the Denbighshire Historical Society, vol. 15 (1966), pp. 158-68.

SNELL

1967133

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynnyddol / Annual Report 1966-67

Disgrifiad / Description

From Messrs. Snell & Sons, Swansea, the music publishers, an outstanding collection of manuscripts of the works of Welsh composers of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries (NLW MSS 19761-896), including composers' holograph scores of substantial proportions of the works of Joseph Parry, David Jenkins and W. T. David, Tonypandy, with a representation of many other Welsh composers of the period. Besides holograph full scores the collection comprises copies and drafts of scores and sets of orchestral parts. Although most of the works represented in the purchase have been published, in very few cases did publication extend to the full score; the practice was for performers to hire the full score and orchestral parts (or 'band parts') from the publisher. The full scores now acquired (and in their absence the sets of orchestral parts) thus take on an inestimably greater value. Works by Joseph Parry in the collection are his operas Blodwen, Sylvia, Arianwen, King Arthur, Y Ferch o Scer, His Worship the Mayor, and The Maid of Cefn Ydfa, his oratorios Emmanuel, Nebuchadnezzar, and Jesus of Nazareth, his cantatas Ceridwen, Y Bugail Da, Joseph, and Bethlehem, a string quartet in F minor, a few other choral and instrumental works, and some 150 songs and anthems, dating from 1863. (An earlier purchase from the same source, of manuscripts of Joseph Parry is now NLW MSS 9281-97). Works by David Jenkins include his oratorios Job and The Legend of St. David, his cantatas The Enchanted Isle, Llyn y Morynion, Psalm of Life, The Ark of the Covenant, The Galley Slave, and Scenes in the Life of Moses, an operetta The Village Children and various other choral works. Works by W. T. David, Tonypandy, include his cantatas The Blind Man of Judah and The Day of Pentecost, his operas Goronwy and The Maid of Arfon, two incomplete operas, and some 100 minor pieces, some instrumental, mostly songs. Other composers represented by major works are John Thomas ('Pencerdd Gwalia') (cantatas Llewelyn and The Bride of Neath Valley), D. Emlyn Evans (cantata The Captivity and about twenty minor pieces), Daniel Protheroe (cantatas A Song of Hope, St. Peter, and Drontheim, a 'ballade' for chorus and orchestra), Haydn Morris (operetta Merch y Bryniau and songs), J. R. Lewis (opera Caradog and minor works), T. Glyndwr Richards (opera Cartref, The Flooded Mine, and Royal House and minor works), and D. W. Rowlands (operetta Olwen Plasgwyn). The other composers represented, mostly by songs and anthems, are Oscar Allon, Gilbert H. Beard, Edward Broome, H. Davies, J. T. Davies, T. Vincent Davies, W. J. R. Davies, T. D. Edwards, George M. Evans, John Gabriel, William George, R. S. Hughes, T. O. Hughes, D. Tawe Jones, W. O. Jones, Dyfed Lewis, E. D. Lloyd, D. Warwick Moore, Morfudd Owen, John Price, Rhedynog Price, T. J. Rees, T. Osborne Roberts, W. T. Samuel, T. C. Samuels, D. Vaughan Thomas, Blodwen Thomas, Frank G. Ward, E. D. Williams, Ioan Williams, and J. A. Williams. Acquired from the same source were a manuscript containing parts of a Mass and a Te Deum by Giovanni Bononcini, copied by John Allcock in 1747; a translation of The Merchant of Venice into French verse by Pierre Hubert Adolphe Houhin (died 1861); and part of a draft of Legends of Iceland (2nd Series), translated by G. E. J. Powell and E. Magnusson, London, 1866, in Magnusson's hand. Additional material subsequently received from Messrs. Snell & Sons include copyright ledgers, 1929-34, 1935-57; cash books, 1932-6, 1936-48; ledgers, 1925-7, 1938-52; credit sales account book, 1929-48; and a file of correspondence relating to the 'mechanical rights' of the hymn-tune Cwm Rhondda, 1932-3.

Rowlands, Lord Sudeley, F. Hanbury-Tracy (his son), Alfred Thomas, C. M. Warmington, A. J. Williams, Coed y Mwstwr, Sir John Williams, John Carvell Williams, Richard Williams ('Celynog'), and others. There are also references to matters of Welsh interest in letters from Lady Lucy Cavendish, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Sir William Harcourt, R. A. Hudson, Charles Hobhouse, John Morley, A. J. Mundella, Sir F. R. Sandford, F. Schnadhorst, W. H. Smith, Edward Stanhope and Sir G. O. Trevelyan. Of particular interest are the letters to Rendel from Principal T. F. Roberts, in which are discussed the affairs of Aberystwyth College, the annual grant to the College from the Government, the stipends of the staff, and the provision of pensions (including a typescript of salaries paid to members of the staff in 1908), David Davies's proposal to found a hostel for men in 1909, invitations to distinguished persons to deliver inaugural lectures, the building plans of the National Library of Wales, arrangements for the royal visit to Aberystwyth in July 1911, the proposal to found a University of Wales Appointments Board, efforts to get Principal Roberts appointed to the Commission on appointments to the Civil Service, including also references to current politics in Wales, to disestablishment, and a tribute to the valuable services of D. Lloyd George in the establishment of the National Library of Wales. There is also an important holograph letter written by Rendel to Principal Roberts, 3 September 1903, in which he refers to the three main Welsh issues, a Suspensory Bill, a Land Commission, and a University, for which he had bargained with Gladstone, and which would probably not have been achieved had he accepted office in 1892.

There are letters from W. E. Gladstone, Mrs. Catherine Gladstone, and their sons W.H., H.A., and H. N. Gladstone, who married Maud, daughter of Lord and Lady Rendel, and from the Rendels to Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone. For the most part they deal with social, personal and family matters, but they also contain references to current political issues, Liberal Party dissensions, international affairs, the Armenian atrocities, contemporary Welsh politics, the degree ceremony at Aberystwyth in 1896, as well as such disparate topics as the use of steel in building construction and investment in Elswick shares. Other distinguished Liberals who maintained a considerable correspondence with Rendel were Lord Rosebery, Lord Morley (including minutes in the hand of Rendel of conversations with Morley in 1888 and 1894, recording his observations on politics and politicians), and Sir William Harcourt. Some of the other correspondents represented in this collection are Lord Abingdon, A. H. D. Acland, Lord and Lady Acton, Sir John Adye, Lord Amherst, Lord Armitstead, H. H. Asquith, Lord Avebury, Nathaniel Barnaby, Sir John Wolfe Barry, Lord Bessborough, Sir Michael Hicks Beach, A. Birrell, Wilfred S. Blunt, Lady Blunt, Lord Justice Bowen, Lady Bowen (Rendel's sister), Henry Brand, T. Brassy, George Brodrick, James Bryce, Rev. A. G. Butler, H. M. Butler, Sidney Buxton, Lord Carlingford, Lord and Lady Carlisle, Lord Carrington, Lady Lucy Cavendish, H. C. E. Childers, Lord Cobham, Lord Coleridge, Lord Collins, Jesse Collins, F. Warre Cornish, George Curzon, Princess Czartoryski, Sir John R. Dasent, Sir Charles Dilke, J. G. Dodson, Admiral F. Egerton, T. H. Farrer, Ronald Fergusson, William Fishfield, Sir C. W. Fremantle, Herbert C. Gardner, Sir Arthur Godley C. W. Goodhart, Sir Edward Grey, Sir F. Seymour Haden, R. B. Haldane, Lord George Hamilton, L. V. Harcourt, Frederic Harrison, C. Seale-Hayne, Lord Hawkesbury, Sir Arthur Hayter, Lord Henschell, Henry Higgs, Lord Hobhouse, Charles Hobhouse, Dr. Thomas Hodgkin, Thomas Hughes, W. Holman Hunt, R. A. Hudson, Sir Ughtred Kay-Shuttleworth, Lord Kimberley, Admiral Cooper King, George Lambert, Andrew Lang, Lord Lansdowne, C. Shaw Lefevre, F. Leveson-Gower, G. Leveson-Gower, Lord Liverpool, Sir A. C. Lyall, Sir Charles Lyell, Justin McCarthy, Sir Louis Mallet, Mantle Marble, Edward Marjoribanks, Lord Justice J. C. Mathew, Arnold Morley, Sir J. R. Mowbray, A. J. Mundella, Count Munster, Sir George Murray, Gilbert Murray, Sir Andrew Noble, Lord Northbourne, T. P. O'Connor, E. Gambier Parry, Herbert W. Paul, Sir J. W. Pease, Lord Portsmouth, Lord Reay, Whitelaw Reid, Lord Ribblesdale, Lord Ripon, C. S. Roundell, Lord Russell of Killowen, Lord Arthur Russell, G. W. E. Russell, T. H. Sanderson, Sir F. R. Sandford, John Sinclair, W. H. Smith, Lord and Lady Spencer, Herbert Spencer, Edward Stanhope, H. S. Stanhope, Philip Stanhope, Lord Stanmore, Lord Thring, Sir G. O. Trevelyan, Lord Tweedmouth, J. Vavasour, Lord Vernon and Lord Welby.

Lord Rendel was an intimate of the royal family and there are many letters from royal secretaries and equeries, such as Sir Arthur Bigge, Lord Knollys, and Captain Seymour Fortescue. There is a holograph letter from the Prince of Wales, 23 March 1898, written to Rendel in reply to a letter giving an account of W. E. Gladstone's health. There are also letters from Helen, Duchess of Albany, R. H. Collins, her secretary, Alexander George of Teck (later Earl of Athlone), her son-in-law, the Grand Duke Michael, Charlotte, Princess of Saxe-Meiningen, and the Comtesse de Caserta.

A very interesting group of letters are those, 1880-7, from Sir Robert Hart, Inspector-General of the Chinese Customs, to Rendel, which deal with the supply of gunboats to China, the life of foreigners in the Chinese ports, the unsatisfactory relations which exist between Englishmen employed by the Chinese Customs and members of the regular Consular Service, the mistakes of British policy in China, the necessity for Britain to cultivate good relations with China, the control of the opium trade between India and China, the collection of customs duties on opium and measures necessary to prevent the loss of revenue to China through the smuggling of opium through Hong Kong and Macao, and with the diplomatic moves which led to the settlement of the dispute between France and China over Tonkin, in which negotiations were conducted by Sir Robert Hart, on behalf of the Empress of China, through J. D. Campbell, his secretary in London, using Rendel as his intermediary with Lord Granville, the Foreign Secretary; there are also references to the offer to Sir Robert Hart, made as the result of Rendel's representations to the Foreign Secretary, of the post of minister at Peking, to the relations of China with France, Germany and Russia, together with comments on the Irish question and the political situation in England, with strictures on the party political system in England in 1887, comparing the situation unfavourably with China, to which Rendel replied at length in a holograph letter. There are also notes concerning J. D. Campbell's employment in Paris, 16 January - 25 June 1885, in connection with the Paris negotiations between France and China, and letters on the same subject from Rendel to J. D. Campbell, Mrs. Campbell, and Lady Hart, and copies of letters from Rendel to Lord Granville; and memoranda concerning the diplomatic initiatives to settle the dispute between France and China, 11 September - 17 December 1884, with copies of correspondence between Campbell and Hart.

As this important archive arrived at the end of the year under review, it was possible for the purpose of this Report to make only a cursory examination of the contents.
