Ffynhonnell / Source

The late Mr J R Morris, Bethel, Caernarvon.

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1969-70

Disgrifiad / Description

A collection of letters, papers, manuscripts, and press cuttings from the library of J. R. Morris, bookseller and writer, of Caernarvon.

The collection consists largely of volumes of press cuttings, photographs, and greetings cards, which are partly indexed. The majority of the press cuttings comprise poetry and poetry columns, although a fairly substantial number relate to eminent Welshmen and to the contemporary Welsh language crisis.

The manuscripts comprise poetry and other literary writings by J. R. Morris, including a novel 'Allwedd Serch' and reminiscences published under the title of Atgofion Llyfrwerthwr; a collection of 'englynion', very many by John Owen Williams ('Pedrog'); a dictionary of Welsh bird names; a dictionary of Welsh monosyllabic words; lists of Welsh place names; minutes of the Committee of Eisteddfod y Ddraig Goch, Liverpool, 1920-6; and the original manuscript of 'Hynafiaethau a Chofianau Plwyf Beddgelert' by William Jones ('Bleddyn') which shared the prize with Owen Wynne Jones ('Glasynys') at an eisteddfod at Beddgelert in 1860.

The letters are few and written largely after 1960. The principal correspondent is H. Parry Jones, Llanrwst.

The collection also includes photographs of family groups, of eminent Welshmen, and of members of the Welsh community in Ashton in Makerfield; and ballads and other printed matter.

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE

1970108

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1969-70

Disgrifiad / Description

A group of papers, numbering nearly 3,500 hundred items, from the family home of the Right Hon. David Lloyd George, O.M., 1st Earl Lloyd George of Dwyfor, at Brynawelon, Cricieth (NLW MSS 20403-93). The main group centres on Dame Margaret Lloyd George, with smaller groups centred on David Lloyd George himself and on his daughters Olwen and Megan.

Much the most important part of the acquisition is the series of over 2,000 letters from Lloyd George to Margaret, his wife, beginning in 1886, before their marriage, and continuing until 1936. Until the post-war years Lloyd George during the long and frequent periods in which he was apart from his family wrote home regularly an almost daily letter. The diary-like quality of the letters taken as a whole is some compensation for the discovery that many of them, especially the later ones, are disappointingly brief. This series of letters probably constitutes the most valuable single source for Lloyd George's early career.

Among the papers of Lloyd George himself are diaries for January - November 1887 and January 1889, speeches and notes for speeches, 1885-1930s, a few political papers, four volumes of press cuttings and, among various keepsakes, H. H. Asquith's notes for his speech in the House on the Irish Question, 10 July 1916, and a collection of holograph satirical rhymes written by Sir Wilfred Lawson during various Commons debates, 1894-1904. Represented in the incoherent group of 160 letters to Lloyd George, in few cases by more than one letter, are H. H. Asquith, Henry Campbell-Bannerman, Lord Robert Cecil, Winston Churchill, Lord Derby, Eamon de Valera, A. G. Edwards, T. E. Ellis, Thomas Gee, Ramsay Macdonald, John Morley, J. E. Redmond, Lord Rendel, and C. P. Scott, among others. There are a few letters to Lloyd George from his wife Margaret, his uncle Richard Lloyd, his brother William, and his children.

Apart from letters from her family there are over 300 other letters to Dame Margaret mostly relating to her public and social life and representing a wide range of figures in English and Welsh public life. There are also speeches and notes for speeches by Dame Margaret, 1910s-40.

The group centred on Olwen Lloyd George (Lady Olwen Carey Evans) consists mostly of letters from her mother, especially during 1922-3 when the Carey Evans's were in India.

Lady Megan Lloyd George's papers comprise a smallish group of letters, including ones from her father, 1912-44, her mother, 1918-37, and a few from Clement Attlee, Lady Violet Bonham Carter, Lord Dawson, and Dingle Foot; speeches and notes for speeches, 1920s-65; and six indexed volumes of press cuttings covering most of her career from 1930 till 1951.

The remainder of the archive comprises miscellaneous family letters and papers of the Lloyd George family and of the Owen family of Mynydd Ednyfed (Dame Margaret's home), the latter dated from 1855 onwards and including a number of documents relating to the ownership of shares in local ships. There are also the minute book of the Cricieth Charity School trustees, 1819-46, and 'Cofiadur Ysgol Sabbathawl Bryneingion', 1829-30.

SARUM ANTIPHONAL

1970109

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynnyddol / Annual Report 1969-70

Disgrifiad / Description

A large and handsome antiphonal, of Sarum use, probably of the late fourteenth century and written in South Wales or the West of England (NLW MS 20541E). The manuscript comprises the Temporale, Psalter with canticles and two litanies, Sanctorale and Commune. Sections have been lost at the beginning of the Temporale and of the Psalter, all but the first two leaves of the Commune have been mutilated, leaving the remainder more or less fragmentary, and leaves have been cut out at various points throughout the volume; otherwise its condition is good. The manuscript retains its contemporary or near-contemporary binding in oak boards. The Temporale, Sanctorale, and Commune are written in a good Textura with, besides red and blue initials of up to six lines, a large number (about two a page) of calligraphic initials embodying profiles of human and animal heads. The Psalter is written by a slightly less expert hand on parchment of poorer quality, but its red and blue initials, though simpler, appear to be the same work as those of the rest of the manuscript. The most striking liturgical feature of the manuscript is a full office of St. David (ff. 205-208v). His feast was introduced into the Sarum calendar in 1398 (and its observance made obligatory in 1415) but is found considerably earlier in, for instance, calendars of Hereford and Exeter. The Proper of this office of St. David (including a prose) appears, apart from its two Collects, to be unknown from any other source. Liturgically, as well as musically, it is therefore of exceptional Welsh interest, especially bearing in mind the virtually total loss of manuscript service books for the diocese of St. Davids. With the doubtful exception of Paternus, who occurs in a litany (probably the Gaulish saint of the name), no Welsh saints apart from David appear in the liturgy, though a memorial for Winifred was added in a margin in the fifteenth century (she entered the Sarum calendar with St. David). The only saint outside the Sarum calendar to occur in the Sanctorale is Ethelbert (of Hereford), with a memorial. The second of the litanies includes a number of saints suggesting that the manuscript was written for a foundation with both Irish and Continental connections (SS. Patrick, Columba, Columbanus, Kilian, Walburg, Wulfran, Wulmer and, puzzlingly, Machar). A scribbled note 'Of ye freres Augustyns / aut quid aut venio' (f. 161) suggests the vicinity of a house of the Austin Friars, though the absence of any office for St. Augustine must rule out an Augustinian origin for the manuscript. The large number of names scribbled in the margins concur, so far as they are identifiable, in pointing to Talgarth as the home of the manuscript by about the middle of the sixteenth century.

Sassoon, Herbert Spencer, Lord Stanmore, Alfred Thomas, Lord Tredegar, Sir G. O. Trevelyan, Lord Welby, Algernon West, and Thomas Wood, Rendel's butler.

The collection contains the notes made by Lord Rendel of his conversations with W. E. Gladstone 1889-98, including observations on a variety of political, historical, literary and religious topics. [These notes have been transcribed extensively by F. E. Hamer in the above-mentioned work, but passages have been cut and abbreviated with no indication given that this had been done. In particular certain comments on Gladstone's relationship with the Queen have been omitted]; notes made of a conversation with John Morley, 9 June 1891, concerning the probable composition of the next Liberal Government, and of conversations with Count Munster, 10 March 1899, and with H.H. Asquith, January - February 1910, much of which has been transcribed by F. E. Hamer; a note in W. E. Gladstone's own hand, amending the preamble of the Tithe Bill, 9 June 1890, showing how far he was prepared to go in the direction of Welsh Disestablishment at that time; and the proof corrections made by W. E. Gladstone of his Introduction to Sheppard's Pictorial Bible.

This Rendel Collection was purchased in three lots, one lot being acquired indirectly through the Librarian, University of Birmingham, who retained a selection of the letters and kindly provided the Library with photocopies to complete the archive.

H S EDE: SHAW-EDE

1970128

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynnyddol / Annual Report 1969-70

Disgrifiad / Description

A copy of H. S. Ede (ed.): Shaw-Ede. T. E. Lawrence's Letters to H. S. Ede 1927-1935 (Golden Cockerel Press, 1942), with copious marginal corrections and annotations by Alice B. Winnicott, ? 1943 (NLW MS 20603C). An accompanying letter by Alice B. Winnicott, addressed to the Editor, The New Statesman and Nation, explains how some years ago (writing in 1943) she made a careful copy of the Shaw-Ede letters in manuscript. It is clear (p. 28) that she must also have transcribed Ede's commentary, for she also makes corrections to this. The 1943 letter did not appear in The New Statesman, so Ede had no occasion to give his own view of the matter. It is not clear whether or not Alice B. Winnicott herself made the corrections. On p. 28 is a note 'corrected up to here. 20/2/43. writing C.S. and J.E.' The corrections appear to be based on a very careful collation of the printed text with the manuscript copy. It extends to such details as punctuation, capitalization and layout. It inserts a long omitted passage on p.11 but elsewhere (pp. 38, 59) omits them. At two points names left blank are filled in. The remaining corrections, though very numerous, do not greatly alter the substance of the letters. Clearly however they are of considerable textual significance.

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynnyddol / Annual Report 1969-70

Disgrifiad / Description

A group of deeds and documents relating to the family of Davies of Maes-mawr Hall, parish of Llandinam, co. Montgomery, and formerly of the Marsh, parish of Westbury, co. Salop. The archive had previously been carefully sorted and annotated by the depositor's brother Major E. H. C. Davies, M.B.E., Surbiton, Surrey, and the deposit includes a full list which he had made of the documents. In addition Major Davies has very kindly allowed the Library to take a photocopy, for retention with the collection, of a substantial volume of 'Notes on the Family . . .' which he has compiled partly from the records themselves and partly from other original sources.

The collection may be classified as follows:

Deeds. About 120 deeds, 1583-1920, relating to properties in Penmorfa, co. Caernarvon, Corwen, Dolgelley, Llanbedr, Llandanwg, Llandeckwyn, Llanegryn, Llanenddwyn, Llanfair, Llanfrothen and Llanglynin, co. Merioneth, Beriw, Bettus, Buttington, Castell moch issa, Castle-Caereinion, Dethienidd, Garthmill, Guildsfield, Kerry, Llandinam, Llandyssil, Llanerch Chrochwell, Llanfair Caerinion, Llanllwchaiarne, Llann[erch]rhyddoll, Llanvair, Llanwonog, Llanwrin, Machynlleth, Maesmawr, Manavon, Manavon Gaynog, Manavon Llûs, Moughtrey, Newtown, Penegoes, Pennarth, Poole, Pullan, Tregynnan, Trelydan, Trewern and Trwstewelin, co. Montgomery, Gladestry and Llanfihangel, co. Radnor, and Venington, Westbury and Wittin, co. Salop.

Testamentary records. Originals and copies of wills and/or probates and letters of administration of members of the Davies and related families, belonging mainly to the nineteenth century. Earlier items relate to Thomas Price of Dolvoryn, 1657, Sarah Judge of Newtowne, 1717/18, William Roberts of the Pentrey, parish of Aberhavesp, 1729/30, and Rice Price, 1772, and Vaughan Foulkes, 1794, both of the parish of Mynavon, all in co. Montgomery, and John Rowland of Ymwlich, parish of Llandanwg, co. Merioneth, 1744.

Manuscript volumes. An interesting group of manuscripts, mainly memoranda books containing domestic and medical recipes, household, rent and other accounts, family particulars, etc., the earlier ones belonging to the late seventeenth century. Also included are a letter book, 1783-1808, of Pryce Davies; an apportionment of tithes belonging to Rev J. Davies; a volume relating to the commutation of tithes for the parish of Llandinam, ?1844-5, a sketch book [c.1840] of Jane Ann Pryce containing scenes from various countics in North Wales; and a notebook containing details of excursions in the neighbourhood of Llanberis, 1892.

Family and personal papers. These have been sorted by Major E. H. C. Davies into files for individual members of the family with whom they are concerned. There are also files for certain related families. The contents are mainly correspondence, accounts, legal documents, professional papers of the members of the family who were clergymen, and papers collected with the duties of those who filled the office of high sheriff for co. Montgomery, 1763-1870. A number of pedigrees and material relating thereto may also be included in this group.

Estate and industrial records. Maes-mawr estate papers, 1899-1938, including sale catalogues, plans, rentals, accounts, a valuation, and inventories; a rental, 1748, of the estate of Humphrey Jones of Garthmill in the parish of Berriew; a valuation, 1834, of the Manafon estates; claims, etc., 1802-c.1823, relating to the Arustley and Kedewen enclosures; a writ, 1712, to confess judgment for the Company of Mine Adventures touching properties in the parishes of Llanidlos, Tre Eglwys, Carno, Llanbrynmair, Llangerrig and Machyn Lleth, and in Arustley and Talerthaige, co. Montgomery; accounts for repairing Caersws Bridge, 1711-74; and correspondence, etc., 1833, relating to the Montgomeryshire Canal.

Miscellaneous papers. Documents, 1683-1778, relating to the erection of pews in the parish churches of Westbury, co. Salop, and Llandinam, co. Montgomery; terriers, 1790, of the tithes, etc., of Llanwnnog and Llandinam; and a petition, 1833, by the inhabitants of part of the deanery of Arustley for a change in the system of paying tithes and for the correction of abuses in the established church.

Correspondence, including a letter written on St. Helena in 1685 and another shortly after the writer had fought at the battle of Waterloo.

A collection of poetry written mainly in the last quarter of the eighteenth century, but including copies of correspondence, 1741-8, and verses relating to the marital adventures of Sir John Pryce of Newtown. Several poems, such as elegies on the deaths of Mr. John Devereux by Rev [William] Thomas of Forden, and of Mr. Tilsley on the Western Main, are of local interest, while verses to Mr. [John] Wilkes, 1776, and to the memory of Dr. [Richard] Price are more general in their appeal. Translations from classical authors made for Dr. Bayley / Bayly in August 1792 are also included.

A print of Newtown public rooms erected in 1832.

Disgrifiad / Description

Deeds and estate papers relating to the Maesmôr estate in the parishes of Llangwm, Llanfihangel Glyn Myfyr, and Cerrigydrudion, co. Denbigh, and Betws Gwerfyl Goch, co. Merioneth, 1715-1923. The group begins with the settlement made on the marriage of Peter Maurice, later dean of Bangor, with the heiress to the estate in 1715. The estate later descended to the families of Lloyd of Trefnant (not represented by documents in the group) and Kerr, by whom Maesmôr mansion and demesne were sold in 1923. The group comprises eight deeds, 1715-49, and some thirty deeds, together with wills, abstracts of title, legal papers, sale catalogues, accounts of death duties, etc., 1819-1938, a few of them relating to other interests of the Kerr family than the Maesmôr estate. The Kerr family inherited a joint interest in Trefnant estates in co. Montgomery and this is comprised in some of the deeds.

Parcel 1537. A small and disjointed group of records of the Morgan and Gould family of Tredegar Park and the family estates, complementing the main Tredegar Park archive already deposited in the Library (cf. Annual Report for 1950, 1959 and 1962). The deposit includes small bundles of papers relating to the wills of Elizabeth Shaw, 1728, Ann Paston (d. 1742) and [Frances] Shaw (d. 1762), including a letter from Lady Byron, daughter of the last-named (all being connected with the Gould family); mortgages of tolls of the Cambridge and Ely and the Downham and Ely Turnpike Trusts, 1763, 1819-29, and 1856; the building and opening of St. Mary's Church, Tredegar Square, Stepney, 1839; a dispute about Mundy family plate involving Admiral Sir George Rodney Mundy, 1867; and the debts of Lady Francis Conyngham (daughter of Lord Tredegar), 1871-4. There is a larger bundle of miscellaneous papers relating to Tredegar Park estates and their management, 1842-56, and a number of schedules of deeds, 1822-c.1851. The seventy or so deeds in the deposit include a few settlements and personal documents, and assignments of shares, including one from Sir Charles Morgan to Trustees (of a variety of shares), 1819, and others concerning the Hay Railway, 1843-5, Rumney Railway, 1842-56, and Tredegar Iron Co., 1867. The remaining deeds relate to lands in Brecon, 1816-63 (including Honddu Mill), and the parishes of Llandyfalle, 1825-59, Llanhamlach, 1792, Ystradfellte, 1789-1830, and Ystradgynlais (Palleg Mill, 1747, and the Palleg Railway, 1827), co. Brecknock; in the parish of Colwinston, 1841, Llanwonno (coal-mines), 1846, Roath, 1804, and Michaelston-y-Vedw and Rudry, 1724-1806, co. Glamorgan; in Newport and the parishes of Llanwenarth, Llanwern, and St. Woollos, 1812-55, with leases of Basaleg rectory, 1806 and 1820, co. Monmouth; and to lands in the parish of St. Mary Stratford Bow, 1765-90, a pew in St. Phillip's, Regent Street, 1820, and a house in Pall Mall, 1844, all in London.

The deposit also includes a deed of family arrangement under a settlement of Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, partly concerning the Rawlins family of Rhyl, 1904.
