Diaries and papers of the donor's husband, Dr David G. Morgan, JP, OBE, (1903-65), who was born at Bronant, Cardiganshire. He supervised the building of Llandough and Heath Hospitals, Cardiff, and contributed considerably towards the development of the National Health Service. He was, among many other things, president of the Cardiff division of the BMA. The six large diaries, dated 1937 to 1965, contain an account of most of his life, including meetings with many well-known people, and his views on various subjects. They also contain many apt quotations from various authors. There are also two scrapbooks of press cuttings, typescript copies of his lectures and broadcasts, and letters of condolence to his wife after his death.

Disgrifiad / Description

Two letters from Jessie L[aidlay] Weston (d. 1928), in Paris, to Dr Evans, almost certainly Dr John Gwenogvryn Evans (1852-1930) (NLW MS 21482D). Both letters were found in a copy of Dr Weston's work From Ritual to Romance (Cambridge, 1920). In the first letter, Jan. 10th [1920], she notes that she is just publishing this work, and that she has requested the publishers to send the recipient a copy. She draws his attention to the last chapter, and repeats her belief that Pembrokeshire was the original home of both the Grail and the Percival stories. In the second letter, Feb. 5th [1920], she requests the recipient's opinion concerning the name of King Claudus de la Daeserte, a character in Arthurian legend, and refers to the line "Claudus in syon" on page 68 of Dr Gwenogvryn Evans's work Poems from the Book of Taliesin (Llanbedrog, 1915). She also briefly discusses the origins of the Lancelot story, and hopes that the recipient will be able to interest some Welsh scholars in Bleheris. She expresses a desire to get in touch with Miss Mary Williams again.
